Jamie F. Hickey is a Partner at Leake Andersson who serves clients in numerous practice areas including insurance defense, transportation, products liability, and premise liability. She has experience handing a myriad of cases from initial case assessment through trial. Jamie's experience allows her to develop specific legal strategies for each case while protecting her client's interests as a staunch advocate.

Outside of her practice, Jamie serves as faculty for the Tulane Law Trial Advocacy Program and frequently volunteers with Southeast Louisiana Legal Services.

Prior to joining Leake Andersson, Jamie represented corporations and insurance companies in various areas of litigation including insurance defense, transportation, employment discrimination, and coverage. Additionally, Jamie clerked for the 40th Judicial District Court for the Parish of St. John the Baptist where she handled civil, criminal, and domestic dockets. While in law school, Jamie served as the Editor in Chief of the Tulane Environmental Law Journal and received the Jackson-Ryan Pro Bono Advocate Award for completing 583 hours of pro bono work. Jamie also clerked for Hon. Charles J. Kahn, Jr. in the U.S. District Court for Northern District of Florida while in law school.
