Jason R. Bonnet is a long-time partner at Leake Andersson and a native of New Orleans.

After graduating from Louisiana State University Law School in 2003, Jason concentrated his practice on assisting employers with all aspects of business litigation and providing a comprehensive response to workplace accidents including defending workers' compensation claims, supporting clients during OSHA investigations, analyzing insurance coverage, prosecuting subrogation claims, and fighting casualty claims throughout the state of Louisiana.

Jason aggressively advocates for a diverse client base of local and national private businesses, lenders, unions, organizations, and insurance clients. Aside from his litigation experience, he provides insurance coverage opinions for clients and drafts business transaction contracts throughout the United States. Jason is admitted to practice in all state and federal courts in Louisiana.

Jason is happily married and shares two children with his wife, Christine. When not practicing law, he enjoys sailing Lake Pontchartrain and participating in athletics including tennis and basketball.
